

MOTHER HALTS KIDNAPING

Here and There

Editorial By ALEX. H. WASHBURN

THE deadline for payment of taxes without penalty expires Monday, and Governor Futrell, pointing to the installment plan inaugurated by the legislature last year, declares that there can be no further extension.

Indian Cotton No Threat to Dixie's Reduced Acreage

India Has to Use Her Land to Feed 319 Million People

COTTON DECLINING

AAA Program in U. S. A. Has Not Stimulated Indian Production

By the Extension Service

Alarmists who see in moderate American cotton production the loss of export markets would have the Southern farmer return to big production regardless of price. Others think that cotton markets bought at the price of farm poverty are too expensive.

Study of the foreign cotton situation by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration leads to the conclusion by experts of the Cotton Section that large foreign expansion of cotton growing is unlikely in the near future. There are physical, social, and economic factors which will largely limit foreign cotton production for a long time to come. Moderate foreign increases are to be expected, but serious replacement of American cotton by foreign-grown cotton is unlikely unless American prices go to unusually high levels and remain there for a long period of years, it is believed. Thirteen-cent cotton is not an unusually high price.

India, Egypt, Russia, and China are America's chief cotton production competitors. Brazil is the chief country offering a possible serious threat in the near future. A study of facts about each of these countries will enable one to judge for himself whether the South is seriously threatened.

India's Problem

If India had more land or fewer people, she might expand her cotton production. She has 319,000,000 people and less than 1 1/2 acres in cultivation per person. Famine is an ever-present threat to India. To produce enough food for her teeming millions is a problem. If more cotton is produced, it means less food and feed. Even if high cotton prices encourage larger cotton production, transportation systems in India are so poor it is hard to move food into the farming country to feed the population. Indian farmers are forced to live at home. They cannot drive down to a feed store and buy important food and feed.

India has been planting about 25 million acres per year in cotton. The largest acreage was in 1926 when nearly 28 1/2 million acres were planted. In 1933 the crop was only 23 1/2 million acres. Plantings up to August 1 of this year are the smallest of any year since 1924. The average yield of both food and cotton in India is only about half of what a similar crop yields in the United States. Cotton averages only 80 pounds per acre or about one-sixth of a bale.

There is nothing in the way of price at present to tempt India to produce more cotton. In terms of Indian money, cotton prices were the lowest in March, 1933, of any time in the last 10 years. Prices went down even after the American plow-up. During the picking season, cotton prices in India

(Continued on Page Three)

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS:

REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

When you're paying the check the menu provides food for thought.

Fear Mrs. Stoll Slain by Kidnapers

Officers Descend on Kentucky Home Fearing a Murder

Police Suspect Ransom-Payment Followed by a Double Cross

IS STILL MISSING

No Word From Kentucky Matron Though Husband Has Met Ransom

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—(AP)—Squads of city and county police Saturday rushed to a schoolhouse a quarter of a mile from the home of Mrs. Alice Speed Stoll, kidnaping victim.

They came from several directions and began what appeared to be an extensive search of the Stoll estate, and combed the nearby woods.

A policeman said he believed "a big break" had come, and that he would not be surprised to find the woman's body.

Hope Stadium Now Seats Over 2,500

Emergency Relief Administration Has Contributed Heavily

Such large crowds have attended the first two games in Hope's new stadium that two new sections of seats have been added this week, with ERA labor. The seating capacity is now about 2,500. A small dressing room has been constructed directly beneath the score board for use of the visitor's players.

To avoid the jam at the ticket windows, a new entrance is being built close to the main entrance for the exclusive use of those holding season tickets where they may be properly punched.

During the week, the Young Business Men's association have busied themselves in struggling for additional funds used in the consummation of this project.

Plans are on foot to invite one of two college games here during the season.

During the past week a number of visitors have been noticed from adjoining cities taking notes of the general plan and construction of Hope's new setup.

The box seats which were installed as an experiment are proving very popular. They are especially in demand by people who find it difficult to get out early to secure a good seat in the main stands.

This stadium represents a tremendous amount of work, effort and sacrifice, not only on the part of the business men and those particularly interested in the school, but even to the men who have been working on relief. Many of whom have donated additional time to help to get the thing fixed, and for which they received no pay.

Boy Slain in 'Cop and Robber' Game

Juvenile Tragedy Unfolded in Jersey City Police Probe

JERSEY CITY, N. J.—(AP)—An innocent game of "cops and robbers," a favorite pastime of youngsters, ended in a real police station Friday with three lads—two of them six years old and the other only four—admitting to authorities they were responsible for the death of their best pal.

The story of the game which ended so tragically was told a few hours after the body of 7-year-old John Fenney Jr., of Bayonne, was found crumpled into an old trunk in a squatter's shack near the bed of the abandoned Morris canal.

A rope was around the boy's neck and an autopsy showed death had been caused by strangulation.

Expressing belief the lad might have been killed accidentally by his chums during a game, police rounded up John's known companions. Their opinion was borne out when three youngsters, one of them John's 4-year-old brother, James, tearfully told Chief Daniel Casey they had put the rope around John's neck and had closed down the lid of the trunk.

Asked why they hadn't told anyone, one of the lads said he "was afraid I'd get ticked."

Eating candy and drinking milk during the questioning, the boys said

(Continued on Page Three)

Maid Tells of Stoll Kidnaping

TOP—Sobbing her story to a reporter, Mrs. Fowler Willet, 24, maid in the Berry V. Stoll home in Louisville, Ky., is shown here after the kidnaping of her mistress, Mrs. Alice Helen Stoll. Mrs. Willet said a man "who acted like a fiend" beat Mrs. Stoll before dragging her from the house, after forcing the maid to tie her hands. Then he bound and gagged the maid and fled, according to her story, leaving a ransom note on a bed in an upstairs room.

BOTTOM—The husband, Berry V. Stoll.

Assassins' Guns Smuggled by Girl

French Police Uncover Story of Yugo-Slav Secret Society

Copyright Associated Press
PARIS, France.—(AP)—The terrorist band "Ustashi" which Yugo-Slavia accuses Hungary of harboring, was identified by the French Secret National Saturday as the sinister power behind the assassination of King Alexander, of Yugo-Slavia, and Louis Barthou, Foreign Minister of France, at Marseilles last Tuesday.

Two suspects held in Annemasse and two men who escaped from the police in their hunt for the accomplices of Petrus Kalemien, the actual assassin, were identified from photographs as being members of the Yugo-Slav refugee organization known as "Ustashi."

Police said a girl named Marie Vjoudroch brought the assassins' guns to France.

The police said they had learned that the assassin band started with Hungarian passports from Hungary by way of Switzerland.

The band held target practice in Hungary before coming to France, the police declared.

The girl who brought the guns has thus far escaped capture.

Wallace Beery Is Injured in Studio

Hurt in Fight During Filming of Life of Showman P. T. Barnum

HOLLYWOOD, Calif.—(AP)—Injured in a movie fight scene, Wallace Beery was confined to his home Friday nursing a torn ligament in his ankle and injuries to the foot.

Beery declined an opportunity to have a double do the scene for him, and he was thrown heavily to the floor. The accident occurred Thursday afternoon in production of a picture in which Beery plays the part of P. T. Barnum, the noted showman.

Dr. Harry W. Martin said it may be several weeks before Beery fully recovers.

Hot Springs Cuts Down Bobcats to Tune of 32 to 0

Paul Longinotti, Visitors' Quarterback, Is Star of Game

HELD, FIRST PERIOD

Hope Earns 9 First Downs to 12 for Hot Springs Squad

The largest crowd ever to witness a football game here—some 2,500 fans—Friday night saw the Bobcats go down to defeat before a powerful Hot Springs eleven, 32 to 0.

After being outplayed in the opening quarter, the Trojans came back to score two touchdowns in the second quarter, one in the third and two more in the final period.

The Trojan passing and running attack was featured by Paul Longinotti, 137-pound quarterback, who made three of the touchdowns. Lovell, fullback, and Hoxie, end, made the other two.

Although outclassed, the Bobcats made 9 first downs as compared to 12 for the Trojans. The visitors were alert, taking advantage of every break.

Hope Threat Falls

The quarter opened with Hope receiving. Jack Turner made a nice return of the kick, bringing the ball back to the 40-yard line. Madison picked up 10 yards around end. Madison and Payne made two more successful first downs, placing the ball on the 35-yard line. There the touchdown threat ended when Lovell intercepted a Hope pass.

As the second quarter opened the Trojans had possession of the ball in midfield. Paul Longinotti skirted for 10 yards. Hope drew a 15-yard penalty, placing the ball on the 25-yard line. The Bobcats held for three downs and then Paul Longinotti executed a beautiful pass to Hoxie at end who stepped across the goal for the first touchdown.

The second marker followed immediately. Hope received and after an exchange of punts the Bobcats were backed up against their own goal line. The Bobcats punted weakly and Hot Springs took possession of the ball on Hope's 30-yard line. Longinotti and Lovell worked the ball within a few yards of the goal where Longinotti plunged over.

The Second Half

The Trojans turned a lucky break into a third touchdown as the second half opened. Hope received, Anderson fumbled the kick-off. Hot Springs recovered on Hope 30-yard line. Longinotti made 15 yards on an end run and added five more through the line. He called himself again, running around end for a touchdown.

An intercepted pass by E. Phillips, after a 30-yard run, was brought down within 7 yards of the Hope goal. P. Longinotti went through the line for the touchdown. Lovell, fullback, made the last touchdown when he plunged over from the 2-yard line.

Hot Springs attempted 15 passes, completed four and had three intercepted.

Hope attempted 16, completing four and had eight intercepted. Hope lost 23 yards through penalties as compared to 20 for the Trojans.

Outstanding in the Hope backfield were Madison and Payne. Each made several nice runs.

36-Hour Week in Textiles Ordered

Reduction From 40 Hours Will Leave Weekly Pay Undisturbed

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The approximately 200,000 workers in the cotton garment manufacturing industry were informed Friday by President Roosevelt that, effective December 1, their working hours would be reduced from 40 to 36 hours a week without any decrease in pay.

The president ordered the reduction in hours last summer, but deferred it at that time after protests from some operators. An impartial board was named to investigate. Their conclusion, approved Friday by the president, was that the slash was justified because of potential increase of employment and conditions in the industry.

The action was taken just after the American Federation of Labor again advocated the 30-hour work week but there was no indication the administration intends to adopt a shorter week as a general policy in the near future.

Bulletins

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Cotton consumed during September was reported by the Census Bureau Saturday to have totaled $29,560 bales lint, and $4,690 of linters.

CORNING, Ark.—(AP)—Harold Hogan Maynard, of Randolph county, was arrested Saturday by Sheriff Jack Wallain and charged with aiding the fugitive robbers of the Corning Bank & Trust Co. in escaping. Sheriff Wallain quoted Hogan as saying that his brother, Howard, and Cecil Worsham, both of St. Louis, came to him after the robbery last Saturday and requested his assistance in escaping. Sheriff Wallain said he was convinced that Harold Hogan had no part in the robbery.

WILSON, Ark.—(AP)—Wiley Shelton, Pine Bluff railroad man, was found guilty Saturday of second degree murder for the slaying of his cousin James White. He was sentenced to eight years' imprisonment. The jury returned the verdict Saturday morning after having been given the case Friday. Wiley was accused jointly with his brother Joe, but it was not determined immediately whether Joe would be tried at once.

Tax Deadline to Expire on Monday

Governor Futrell Declares There Will Be No Extension

LITTLE ROCK, (AP)—Governor Futrell stated emphatically Saturday he would not proclaim an extension of the tax-paying time which expires Monday at the closing-time of county collectors' offices.

The chief executive said he had no authority in the first place to extend the time or waive penalties for non-payment of taxes, and he called attention to the installment method of payment which the 1933 legislature put into effect to make it more convenient for the payment of taxes.

Under the 1933 act the taxpayer might divide tax payments into three periods, one-fourth on April 10, one-fourth on July 15, and the remaining one-half on October 15.

The legislature itself extended the tax-paying time to October 15, the governor pointed out, and made tax-paying as easy as possible.

A 10-per-cent penalty with certain loss will accrue if taxes are not paid prior to the closing of the collectors' offices Monday.

Registration Drive to Cover 6 Weeks

Every Baby Born Within Last 12 Months Must Be Registered

LITTLE ROCK, L. M. Hammon of Little Rock has been named special representative of the Bureau of Vital Statistics of the State Board of Health for the state Seventh district, comprising Hempstead, Nevada, Ochitta, Calhoun, Union, Columbia, Lafayette and Miller counties. Mr. Hammon will be active in the first Arkansas "Register Your Baby" campaign, which is being conducted jointly by the Bureau of Vital Statistics of the State Board of Health, the Federal Bureau of the Census, and the Arkansas Emergency Relief Administration.

For the next six weeks these state and federal agencies will attempt to get an accurate check on all babies born in Arkansas in the last twelve months. Cards from the Bureau of the Census will be sent to every family in Arkansas on October 12, asking if there has been a child born in that family in the last 12 months.

If so, to fill out the card. These cards will be returned, postage free, to the Bureau of the Census, which will in turn forward them to the State Board of Vital Statistics, where they will be checked against existing state records. In case a child is found not to be properly registered, steps will immediately be taken to give him his "first citizenship papers."

Birth certificates are becoming more important every year and all that the government is doing is asking five minutes of cooperation on the part of the parents. Uncle Sam will take care of the rest.

Wife Becomes Suspicious

As the night grew on, Walters said that he planned to leave for Chicago and told of having his bags checked at the depot. Mrs. Walters said she grew suspicious when a taxi made repeated stops at the house about train time.

The taxi stopped at least four times within 20 minutes before the train was due. Each time the taxi stopped Walters went out and talked to the driver, who drove away, only to return. Walters asked to talk to the driver, but was refused.

Mrs. Walters said: "Mr. and Mrs. Oral Reaves who were visiting in my home suggested that they take Walters to the train, along with the baby and myself. We all went to the train."

"Walters had the baby in his arms as the train pulled in. I noticed that he kept holding to the child as the train eased off, but never dreamed that he would try to kidnap him," Mrs. Walters said.

"Then suddenly he wheeled, ran and jumped aboard the train, and the struggle was on," Mrs. Walters concluded.

Hope Woman Fails Husband's Effort to Snatch Son, 2

Mrs. G. E. Walters Follows Californian Aboard Train Here

FIGHTING IN COACH

Walters, Taken Off Train by Prescott Officers, in Jail Here

A sensational attempt by an estranged husband to kidnap his 2-year-old son was foiled here Friday night after a struggle by a frantic mother who boarded a north-bound passenger train and fought for possession of the child all the way from Hope to Prescott.

There, the husband, G. E. Walters of Los Angeles, Calif., was taken off the train by Sheriff Arlis E. Pittman of Nevada county. He was returned to Hempstead county and placed in jail.

Walters who came here two days ago, was saying goodbye to his son as the north-bound passenger train drew up to the Hope station at 9:30 Friday night. Suddenly, as the train moved away, he took the child and boarded the moving train.

Fight Aboard Train

The mother, Mrs. G. E. Walters, South Main street, screamed. She ran to the passenger car, attempted to board it but was kicked away. Finally she scrambled on. A woman passenger

"California"

Hempstead County Sheriff John L. Wilson said Saturday that Walters appeared to be frantic, while held in the county jail at Washington.

"He told me," said the sheriff, "that the baby was being kept in a malaria country and he wanted to take him out to healthy California."

"That made me mad," said the sheriff, who is state senator-elect for the 20th district, "because everybody knows there's no malaria here and people live to be 100 years old. I don't know what the kidnaping penalty is, but the penalty for defaming Arkansas climate to boost California ought to be capital punishment."

senger to whom Walters had handed the two-year-old while he kicked at his wife to keep her off the train, refused to turn the baby over to his mother.

Mrs. Walters jerked the baby from the other woman's arms. An argument inside the train followed, with threats by Walters to "knock out" his wife.

With her son held closely in her arms, Mrs. Walters made her way to the pullman car, the husband following. Another argument ensued, Walters striking her. A scream rang out. Frightened passengers arose and hurried to the pair, separating them.

Walters Arrested

In the meantime witnesses to the struggle at the Hope station had telephoned officers at Prescott where the train was flagged. Sheriff Pittman going aboard to take Walters into custody.

Walters, who is connected with a Los Angeles advertising firm, came to Hope Thursday. He made two visits that day to the home of his wife who consented that she would let him see the son provided that he "wouldn't give me any trouble," Mrs. Walters said.

Friday morning Walters made another visit to see his son. He asked that he be permitted to take the child and have his picture made. Mrs. Walters refused, but suggested that he accompany the child Friday afternoon to a local studio.

Plans were made, but Friday afternoon Walters telephoned and said that he had been called to Texarkana. He returned to Hope early that night and came to the home of Mrs. Walters for another visit to see the child.

Wife Becomes Suspicious
As the night grew on, Walters said that he planned to leave for Chicago and told of having his bags checked at the depot. Mrs. Walters said she grew suspicious when a taxi made repeated stops at the house about train time.

The taxi stopped at least four times within 20 minutes before the train was due. Each time the taxi stopped Walters went out and talked to the driver, who drove away, only to return. Walters asked to talk to the driver, but was refused.

Mrs. Walters said: "Mr. and Mrs. Oral Reaves who were visiting in my home suggested that they take Walters to the train, along with the baby and myself. We all went to the train."

"Walters had the baby in his arms as the train pulled in. I noticed that he kept holding to the child as the train eased off, but never dreamed that he would try to kidnap him," Mrs. Walters said.

"Then suddenly he wheeled, ran and jumped aboard the train, and the struggle was on," Mrs. Walters concluded.

Hope Star

O Justice, Deliver Thy Herald From False Report!

Published every week-day afternoon by Star Publishing Co., Inc.
C. E. Palmer & Alex. H. Washburn, at The Star Building, 212-214 South Walnut street, Hope, Arkansas.

C. E. PALMER, President
ALEX. H. WASHBURN, Editor and Publisher

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Hope, Arkansas under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Definition: "The newspaper is an institution developed by modern civilization to present the news of the day, to foster commerce and industry, through widely circulated advertisements, and to furnish that check upon government which no constitution has ever been able to provide."—Col. R. R. McCormick.

Subscription Rate: (Always Payable in Advance) By city carrier, per week 10c; six months $2.75; one year $5.00. By mail, in Hempstead, Nevada, Howard, Miller and Lafayette counties, $3.50 per year; elsewhere $5.00.

Member of The Associated Press: The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news dispatches credited to it or otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein.

National Advertising Representatives: Arkansas Dailies, Inc., Memphis, Tenn., Sterick Bldg.; New York City, Graybar Bldg.; Chicago, Ill., 75 E. Wacker, Drive; Detroit, Mich., 7339 Woodward Ave.; St. Louis, Mo., Star Bldg.

Charges on Tributes, Etc.: Charges will be made for all tributes, cards of thanks, resolutions, memorials, concerning the departed. Commercial newspapers hold to this policy in the news columns to protect their readers from a deluge of space-taking memorials. The Star disclaims responsibility for the safe-keeping or return of any unsolicited manuscripts.

Your Health

By DR. MORRIS FISHER

Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine

Left-Handed Children Need Not Be Inferior

The superstition, that there is something wrong with people who are left-handed, dies hard. In fact, left-handedness seems to be appreciated most in baseball pitchers, but hardly in any other form of sport.

Even the dictionary records the left side as inferior. Thus it states that the left hand is inferior in muscular strength, readiness and skill, and this hand is less under control than the right hand for operations requiring delicate manipulations.

The trouble is that the dictionary does not take into account the fact that the left hand may have been superior at birth, but that somebody's notions insisted on right-handedness and, therefore, the result was marked inferiority on both sides.

In a previous generation attempts were made to make every child right-handed, regardless of the tendencies which it inherited toward the left. The child who is born left-handed comes into a world which is right-handed.

Of course, left-handedness is not a sign of inferiority or abnormality any more than blue eyes or blond hair is a sign of inferiority or abnormality.

The motions of our hands and legs are controlled by our brains. There are two sides of the brain. The left side controls the right hand and right leg, and the right side of the brain controls the left hand and left leg. In most cases one side or the other dominates, and this is dependent on years of hereditary development.

When we try to change left-handed children to right-handedness, we are really trying to change the complete organization of a switchboard, a network of wires and switches that we do not actually control. If it were a telephone system, we could connect and disconnect wires. In the human being, all we can do is endeavor to train the system into a form of operation which may be against its natural tendencies.

As a result of this forced training, awkwardness develops. There may also be blocking, so that stammering and difficulties of speech follow. Disturbances of thinking are usually associated with blocking of this type.

If the mental machinery is adjusted to a certain system of operations and we try to force it into some other system, the new system is naturally slower. It is felt that many disorders of behavior are also brought about by this attempt to force right-handedness on left-handed people.

A BOOK A DAY

By BRUCE CATTON

How a Whole Town Went Into Captivity—"The Cold Journey" Describes Old-Time Indian Raid

In "The Cold Journey," Grace Zaring Stone goes back to the babyhood of the republic and considers the cruelties of frontier warfare.

She studies a settlement in western Massachusetts, raided by Indians under French leadership away back in the 17th century. The story is clearly patterned on the famous Deerfield raid, by the way.

Western Massachusetts was the farthest frontier, in those days. The settlement huddled in a lonely valley, overshadowed by dark, pine-covered hills, envied by limitless wilderness.

Out of the forest, on a bleak winter dawn, come the Indians, with tomahawk and scalping knife. A howling assault, a brisk fight—and the settlement is captured, its houses burned, most of its defenders slain. The survivors are at once herded off to Canada, to be held by the French for ransom by the Massachusetts Bay colony.

And the dismal, heart-breaking journey through the snow over Mrs. Stone's chance to study captives and captors, individually and collectively, and through such civilizations represented there: Puritan New England, Catholic France, and pagan Indians.

The result is an absorbing human story, and a thoughtful discussion of the values involved in this three-sided clash of cultures on the edge of an unknown continent. Skillfully written, "The Cold Journey" is one of the tonic, creams and complexion lotions. And it should be used twice a day. If you don't like commercially prepared eye lotions, use a weak solution of boric acid.

Something Else to Be Considered

Remember that reading or writing in a poor light causes eyestrain which not only impairs your vision but eventually will cause fine lines and wrinkles. Don't read in bed unless you are propped up in a sitting position. If you need glasses, by all means wear them. They may not be flattering, but they're a lot better than headaches, lines and dark circles. Chronic dark circles, by the way, often are due to poor circulation or some other physical ailment. Better see your doctor about them.

tonic, creams and complexion lotions. And it should be used twice a day. If you don't like commercially prepared eye lotions, use a weak solution of boric acid.

Remember that reading or writing in a poor light causes eyestrain which not only impairs your vision but eventually will cause fine lines and wrinkles. Don't read in bed unless you are propped up in a sitting position. If you need glasses, by all means wear them. They may not be flattering, but they're a lot better than headaches, lines and dark circles. Chronic dark circles, by the way, often are due to poor circulation or some other physical ailment. Better see your doctor about them.

The Clew of the Forgotten Murder

BEGIN HERE TODAY

When DAN BLEEKER, junior publisher of The Blade, learns that CHARLES MORDEN, police reporter, has been mysteriously killed, he determines to solve the case. MORDEN, GRUFF, famous criminalologist, to solve the murder.

MORDEN had been assigned to learn all he could about FRANK R. CATHAY, wealthy and prominent, who had threatened to sue The Blade because the newspaper reported CATHAY had been arrested. Later it was proven that the man arrested, taking the name of CATHAY and accompanied by a girl called MARY HIGGINS, was an impostor. MRS. CATHAY, who was CATHAY's fiancée, had been the victim of a blackmail scheme.

A day later MORDEN is found dead. Shortly after that comes news that CATHAY has been killed. MORDEN, GRUFF, goes to see Sidney Griff.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER IX

BLEEKER spoke slowly. "You understand," he said, "that MORDEN was investigating CATHAY's life. CATHAY isn't what he's cracked up to be."

"How do you know that?" Griff asked.

"Because," said Bleeker, "I've been in the newspaper business a long time and I know a small town celebrity at his face value."

"Review isn't exactly a small town," Griff pointed out.

"The same principle applies," Bleeker said. "It's a suburb, and as far as that's concerned I won't accept any man at his face value. Not unless he's a gangster, or a crook. That's one thing you find out from being in the newspaper business. You're a criminalologist, Griff. You know crooks. I am a newspaper man. I know people. And this man CATHAY is simply too good to be true. The president of the luncheon club, the president of the chamber of commerce, director of the bank, candidate for city councilman on a reform ticket. And his wife had fear in her eyes."

"Fear?" asked Griff.

"Fear," repeated Bleeker. "She was afraid of something."

"Afraid of the newspaper?" asked Griff.

"Perhaps," Bleeker said. "But it looked to me as though she was too adept at covering up the fear to have recently acquired it. I would say it was something she had been living with for weeks or months."

"And there was some talk about CATHAY's death being due to publication?"

"Apparently there was," Bleeker said. "But it's being hushed up. CATHAY was an influential man in Riverview. The family have influential friends. There were two doctors on the case. One of the doctors thought there were circumstances surrounding the death that made it resemble poisoning. The other doctor attributed it to natural causes. He's signing a death certificate."

"There'll be no autopsy," asked Griff.

"There's going to be an autopsy," Bleeker said firmly. "I'm going up to interview Beckley, the editor of The Riverview Chronicle. That was the newspaper that was on the opposite side of the political fence from the CATHAY side. Beckley and I have exchanged favors in the past. He started investigating the CATHAY death and then telephoned me that he was

HARRY GRAYSON

DETROIT—Since George Herman Ruth was in his prime, probably no other man in professional baseball has attracted more attention over a protracted period than Jerome Herman Dean, known everywhere as Dizzy Dean, right-handed ace of the Cardinals.

Dizzy isn't exactly sure of anything except one thing. He is positive he can pitch.

He isn't exactly sure where he was born. He used to claim Holdenville, Okla., as his birthplace, but not so long ago launched out with another birthplace—Lucas, Ark. He seems to have been born on January 16, 1910, but once claimed Aug. 14, 1913, as his birthday.

When reminded that this was his brother Paul's birthday, Dizzy countered, "Well, maybe he's Dizzy and I'm Paul."

Not much is known about Jerome Dean prior to the afternoon that a St. Louis scout saw him pitching for a semi-pro club at San Antonio in the summer of 1929.

Dean's six feet two inch frame and 180 pounds, and his scorching fast ball, attracted the scout's attention, so Dizzy was signed to a contract with the Houston Buffs, one of the Cardinals' subsidiary organizations.

Dean was ordered to report to Houston in the spring of 1930. When Joe Schultz, then managing the Buffs, asked the young fellow what his name was, he replied, "Just call me Dizzy." Subsequent events indicate that a no more appropriate name could have been selected.

First Since Alex

By turning in his third victory and second shutout in six days against Cincinnati on the final day of the season, Dean became the first National League pitcher to win 30 games since Grover Cleveland Alexander performed the feat in 1917.

The Dean brothers—Paul accounted for 19 games in his first season as a big leaguer—are built along the general lines of Ichabod Crane. They are lanky, hardy, and supple—hyper mobile. They throw with a natural, easy motion that requires little effort. That is why they are able to pitch so often.

Dizzy Dean everlastingly is pulling the unexpected, both on and off the field.

Most pitchers are content to concentrate their activities on fooling opposi-

HEIFETZ ON RADIO

JASCHA HEIFETZ, distinguished Russian violinist, will be featured as guest star with the Ford Symphony Orchestra Sunday evening, October 14, on the second program of the weekly series of Ford Sunday Evening Hours. The program will be broadcast from 8 to 9 o'clock, Eastern Standard time, over the Columbia network of stations from Orchestra Hall, Detroit.

Heifetz, who first played in concert when he was five years old, will present a varied selection of violin compositions, beginning with the Mendelssohn concerto for violin and orchestra, followed by "Souvenir de Moscow" by Wieniawski, Brahms' Hungarian Dance Number Nine, and Schubert's Ave Maria.

The Ford Symphony Orchestra and chorus of twenty-four voices, conducted by Victor Kolar, will begin next Sunday's concert with Mozart's Overture to "The Magic Flute," the other numbers on the program being The Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin, by Wagner; Strauss' "Wine, Woman and Song," and the Polka from Weinberger's opera "Schwanda." The intermission will be taken up by the second of the series of intimate talks about Henry Ford and his policies.

British King Will Not Forgive Carol

Rumanian Scandal a Blight on Monarchy, Says George the 5th

LONDON, Eng.—(P)—All hope of reconciliation between King Carol of Rumania and his former wife, Princess Helen, was abandoned Thursday when it was learned that King George had refused the pleas of Carol's mother to intervene.

The Dowager Queen Marie of Roumania left for France Wednesday, accompanying Yugoslavia's new 11-year-old King Peter, having failed in her mission to convince King George that he should forgive Carol his indiscretions.

Marie's visit to London was understood to have been to seek a reconciliation between Carol and Helen. The queen felt the British monarchy must first be won over, so that Carol and Helen might both be invited to the wedding of the Duke of Kent and Princess Marina of London next month.

King George, however, was understood to have maintained a stern attitude toward Carol, telling Queen Marie that her son, by continuing to maintain his friendship with Mme. Magda Lupescu—was not only undermining the Rumanian dynasty but causing his country irreparable harm and casting discredit indirectly upon the other royal houses to which he is related.

The king was said to have cited Carol's harsh treatment of Helen, for whom the British ruler is known to have a high regard and deep sympathy, as scandalous.

Marie, it was reported, made no attempt to defend her son but remarked to King George that a monarchy with a bad king was better than no monarchy at all.

Queen Marie was said to have been deeply affected, weeping as she told King George of her own situation and the plight of Rumania in the light of the anomalous situation created by King Carol.

Political Plot Is Seen in Murders

Sensational News Developing in Kansas City Station Massacre

WASHINGTON—(P)—The Washington Evening Star said Friday that federal agents investigating the Kansas City union station massacre had uncovered evidence of a political and gangster combine so startling in its implications that a federal grand jury will be called almost immediately.

WASHINGTON—(P)—The Washington Evening Star said Friday that federal agents investigating the Kansas City union station massacre had uncovered evidence of a political and gangster combine so startling in its implications that a federal grand jury will be called almost immediately.

SIDE GLANCES By George Clark

"Oh, Mr. Banks! Why don't you choose a more comfortable chair?"

Society

Mrs. Sid Henry Telephone 321

Say It Now

You hear a song that thrills you. Sung by any child of song. Praise it. Do not let the choir wait. Wait for the choir. Why should one who thrills your heart. Lack the joy you may impart? If you hear a prayer that moves you By its humble, pleading tone, Join it. Do not let the seker Bow before his God alone. Why should not your brother share The strength of two or three in prayer? If a silvery laugh goes rippling Through the sunshine on his face, Share it. 'Tis the wise man's saying— For both grief and joy a place. There's health and goodness in the mirth In which an honest laugh has birth. Scatter thus your seeds of kindness All enriching as you go— Leave them. Trust the Harvest Given He will make each seed to grow. —Selected.

The Women's Auxiliary of St. Marks Episcopal church will meet Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock with Miss Nettie Brodgen as hostess at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Koonce on East Third street.

The Women's Auxiliary of the First Presbyterian church will meet Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Cox have returned from a delightful trip in the North. Mrs. Cox having spent the past six weeks visiting with friends in Fort Huron, Mich., being joined later by Mr. Cox, when they visited Niagara Falls, Detroit, where they saw

Guaranteed Typewriter Repair Service
O. W. MILLS
218 So. Walnut Phone 36

Correction
Through error our ad in Friday's paper incorrectly priced

10 Lbs Sugar in Paper Bags...51c

This should have read
10 Lbs Sugar in Paper Bags...52c

THE GREAT Atlanta & Pacific TEA COMPANY

Let's Go! SAENGER Matinee Tues. SUNDAY, MONDAY & TUESDAY —and continuing GREATER SHOW SEASON with a full week of outstanding picture hits... plan RIGHT now to see them all.

Cast of 8,000 in stupendous scenes surpassing imagination. Fleets, armies in holocaust of battle. Dazzling beauty... Visions of ravishing beauty... truly the wonder-show of shows!

CECIL B. DE MILLE'S "CLEOPATRA"
THE SIREN OF THE NILE

CLAUDETTE COLBERT WARREN WILLIAMS HENRY WILCOXON

Color Cartoon "Hell's Fire" Paramount News

WED-NIGHT ONLY "Bank Night" —and— Geo. O'Brien "DUDE RANGER"

THUR. & FRI. Matinee Thur. 13c Lee Tracy "You Belong To Me"

FRI-NITE 11 p. m. Preview JOAN CRAWFORD CLARK GABLE "Chained"

Every Saturday A Double Program 25c

guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Spencer. Among the Hope people seeing the circus in Texarkana, Friday night were Mr. and Mrs. Frankie Hearn and little daughter, Mary Jane.

Mrs. Roy Anderson and Mrs. Terrell Cornwell saw the circus in Little Rock Saturday.

Mrs. R. E. Matthews of Idabel, Okla., arrived in Hope last Wednesday and is spending several days with Mr. Matthews here.

Ministers Attack Political Cleanup

They Rap Both Long and Walmesley in New Orleans "Crusade"

NEW ORLEANS.—(P)—Iluey Long's vice and gambling cleanup of New Orleans Friday settled down into an exchange of letters between officials and ministers of the gospel.

His legislative committee investigation of "vice and corruption" under the city administration of his foe, Mayor T. S. Walmesley, was in progress and the senator to all outward appearances was looking after other things.

The New Orleans Ministerial Union, an organization of Protestant ministers, wrote a joint letter to Long's subordinate, Gov. O. K. Allen, and Mayor Walmesley declaring that "many thoughtful citizens of New Orleans had impugned the politicians' motives in movements to rid New Orleans of vice and gambling."

The ministers promised their moral support to any "sustained and permanent law enforcement" on the part of the two rival political factions and told Allen and Walmesley that it was their duty to enforce such a program.

"Many thoughtful citizens of New Orleans are convinced that the recent law enforcement movements, both by the governor and by the mayor, have been prompted by purely political motives," said the letter from the ministers.

At Baton Rouge Governor Allen said that he had received the communication, but he declined to comment on it.

Walmesley issued a formal reply by letter in which he said he regretted that "your association found it compatible with its duties and responsibilities to arraign my motives in the recent activities initiated by me to improve the moral conditions of our city," and that his efforts would be continued to stamp out commercial vice.

NEWS OF CHURCHES
FIRST METHODIST
E. Clifton Rule, Pastor

"Your Ending, Another's Beginning," will be the subject of the sermon by the pastor Sunday morning at 10:35 o'clock.

"Christ, or Ideal," will be a continuation of the studies in a letter written from prison, being given at the 7:30 o'clock services on Sunday evening. At this service the new officers for the young people's division of the church will be installed.

The young people's groups will meet before the evening service, at their usual hour, 7 o'clock.

The church school meets at 9:45 o'clock.

FOOTBALL SCORES

High School

Little Rock 20, Fordyce 0.
North Little Rock 53, Batesville 0.
Subiaco 18, Catholic Hill 0.
Benton 25, Gurdon 0.
Stuttgart 0, Marianna 0 (tie).
Helena 7, Paragould 0.
Jonesboro Juniors 26, Paragould Juniors 0.

Bytheville 21, Forrest City 13.
Dorado 44, Malvern 0.
Hot Springs 32, Hope 0.
Newport 64, Hoxie 0.
Walnut Ridge 51, Piggott 20.
Pine Bluff 32, Jonesboro 7.
Camden 31, Prescott 0.
Dermott 7, Monticello 0.
De Queen 14, Okmulgee 0.
Ft. Smith 22, Okmulgee, Okla., 0.
Harrison 20, Springdale 0.
Farris 31, Alma 0.
Judsonia 13, Heber Springs 6.
Buda 20, Bonita, La., 7.
Ossawatimille 7, Harrisonburg 6.
Cressatt 48, Mar Rouge, La., 0.
Bentonville 12, Huntsville 0.
Ashdown 46, Lewisville 0.
Dardanelle 6, Charleston 6 (tie).
Pocahontas 6, State High of Jonesboro 6 (tie).
Atkins 13, Mabelvale 0.
Kismet, Mo., 24, Hector 0.
Bauxite 13, DeWitt 0.
Springhill, La., 13, Stamps 0.

College

Omaha 27, Arkansas State Teachers 0.
College of Ozarks 21, Arkansas College 0.
Texarkana 26, Magnolia A. & M. 0.
Henderson Teachers 63, Monticello A. & M. 0.

Germany to Pay Part of Interest

Hitler Government Backs Up on Refusal to Pay Anything

WASHINGTON.—(P)—The economically-harrassed German government Saturday made a drastic move to clarify its involved economic and financial relations with the United States by announcing its intention of terminating its unconditional "most favored nation" commercial treaty with this country on October 14, 1935.

Part of Interest

WASHINGTON.—(P)—The German embassy reported Friday night that the Hitler government will pay approximately 75 per cent of the $1,100,000 in interest due American holders of $500,000 in Dawes loan bonds on October 15. Dr. Hans Luther, the German ambassador, will call at the State Department Saturday to officially notify Secretary Hull of his government's decision.

The payments will be made by transfers to be disbursed through J. P. Morgan & Co., American agents for the payments.

At the embassy it was explained that "every possible effort" had been made to find a solution to the financial problems arising from non-payment of Dawes bond interests. Previously it had been said the interest would not be paid and official protests had ensued.

The October 15 payments will be made, it was said, despite the fact that Germany's foreign currency has been greatly depleted and that the German government has been unable to enter into any arrangement with the United States similar to agreements made with Great Britain, France and other nations for full payment.

Weekly Sunday School Lesson

Text: Acts 8:26-39.
The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for October 14.

BY WM. E. GILROY, D. D.
Editor of Advance

Christianity existed before the Bible, or at least before the New Testament. It was not the Book that made Christianity, but Christianity that gave us the Book.

It is somewhat important to remember this, because there have been those who would make the Bible and its formal interpretation more important than the direct experience of the soul in God and in Christ.

In our study of the Bible, and especially the New Testament, the most important thing is to grasp the reality of the experiences that created both the Book and the Church, and to find the reproduction of those experiences in our own lives.

The Ethiopian in our lesson was a man of the Book. That was his credit. He had discovered the Old Testament, and he evidently loved it and read it with zeal.

But, like more than one man of the Book, he had not yet come to the fullness and richness of the experience underlying the things that he read. So it was that he needed some expositor, like Philip, to interpret the meaning of spiritual truth for him and to make it vital in his own life.

The Ethiopian evidently was an apt and ready student, as every true and open-minded lover of the Scriptures must be. He responded with simple sincerity to Philip's exposition of the Christian way, and he was immediately and urgent in his determination to be baptized. What had been achieved, Philip suddenly disappeared, but the Ethiopian went on his way rejoicing.

That is a very good test of our reading of the Bible and of our experience. Do we go on our way rejoicing, or does the Bible induce in us a narrow and controversial spirit and bitter misgivings?

The Bible is a book of joy and of blessedness. No man can read it in the right spirit or discover the experiences that it records without having a great newness of happiness come into his life.

The Bible has not always meant that to men and women. There are those, who have read it in somberness, and to whom it has been a source of dread and to which they have not dared to take it into their hearts.

The Bible cannot be taken too sacredly, but it is a book for the minds and hearts of ordinary men. It is the story of how common people and great people alike, through contact with Jesus, experienced the blessedness of salvation and had their lives changed.

As a record of the life of Christ, the Bible is not complete. That life is still being lived, and every manifestation of the love and truth of Jesus in the lives of men today is an added chapter in the Book of Grace, though it may never be written in actual words.

We should take the Bible, then, as an unfolding book, as the revelation of God and as the revelation of a great experience that God brings to men through Jesus Christ. Our study of it will be unavailing unless it brings to us first of all the joy and blessedness that it brought to those who have written down the story of Jesus, and all that he meant to them in their contact with him.

Increase India is not likely to expand much in the future.

The long-time plan of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration for cotton does not propose to give American cotton markets away to India or to any other foreign nation. It does propose to avoid the violent drops in price that have cursed the Southern farmer and business man for 50 years. By adjusting supply of American cotton to effective demand, a decent price to the Southern farmer can be maintained without a loss of markets.

Germany to Pay Part of Interest

Hitler Government Backs Up on Refusal to Pay Anything

WASHINGTON.—(P)—The German embassy reported Friday night that the Hitler government will pay approximately 75 per cent of the $1,100,000 in interest due American holders of $500,000 in Dawes loan bonds on October 15. Dr. Hans Luther, the German ambassador, will call at the State Department Saturday to officially notify Secretary Hull of his government's decision.

The payments will be made by transfers to be disbursed through J. P. Morgan & Co., American agents for the payments.

At the embassy it was explained that "every possible effort" had been made to find a solution to the financial problems arising from non-payment of Dawes bond interests. Previously it had been said the interest would not be paid and official protests had ensued.

The October 15 payments will be made, it was said, despite the fact that Germany's foreign currency has been greatly depleted and that the German government has been unable to enter into any arrangement with the United States similar to agreements made with Great Britain, France and other nations for full payment.

Weekly Sunday School Lesson

Text: Acts 8:26-39.
The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for October 14.

BY WM. E. GILROY, D. D.
Editor of Advance

Christianity existed before the Bible, or at least before the New Testament. It was not the Book that made Christianity, but Christianity that gave us the Book.

It is somewhat important to remember this, because there have been those who would make the Bible and its formal interpretation more important than the direct experience of the soul in God and in Christ.

In our study of the Bible, and especially the New Testament, the most important thing is to grasp the reality of the experiences that created both the Book and the Church, and to find the reproduction of those experiences in our own lives.

The Ethiopian in our lesson was a man of the Book. That was his credit. He had discovered the Old Testament, and he evidently loved it and read it with zeal.

But, like more than one man of the Book, he had not yet come to the fullness and richness of the experience underlying the things that he read. So it was that he needed some expositor, like Philip, to interpret the meaning of spiritual truth for him and to make it vital in his own life.

The Ethiopian evidently was an apt and ready student, as every true and open-minded lover of the Scriptures must be. He responded with simple sincerity to Philip's exposition of the Christian way, and he was immediately and urgent in his determination to be baptized. What had been achieved, Philip suddenly disappeared, but the Ethiopian went on his way rejoicing.

That is a very good test of our reading of the Bible and of our experience. Do we go on our way rejoicing, or does the Bible induce in us a narrow and controversial spirit and bitter misgivings?

The Bible is a book of joy and of blessedness. No man can read it in the right spirit or discover the experiences that it records without having a great newness of happiness come into his life.

The Bible has not always meant that to men and women. There are those, who have read it in somberness, and to whom it has been a source of dread and to which they have not dared to take it into their hearts.

The Bible cannot be taken too sacredly, but it is a book for the minds and hearts of ordinary men. It is the story of how common people and great people alike, through contact with Jesus, experienced the blessedness of salvation and had their lives changed.

As a record of the life of Christ, the Bible is not complete. That life is still being lived, and every manifestation of the love and truth of Jesus in the lives of men today is an added chapter in the Book of Grace, though it may never be written in actual words.

We should take the Bible, then, as an unfolding book, as the revelation of God and as the revelation of a great experience that God brings to men through Jesus Christ. Our study of it will be unavailing unless it brings to us first of all the joy and blessedness that it brought to those who have written down the story of Jesus, and all that he meant to them in their contact with him.

Increase India is not likely to expand much in the future.

The long-time plan of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration for cotton does not propose to give American cotton markets away to India or to any other foreign nation. It does propose to avoid the violent drops in price that have cursed the Southern farmer and business man for 50 years. By adjusting supply of American cotton to effective demand, a decent price to the Southern farmer can be maintained without a loss of markets.

She Visions New Film Conquests

Gazing negatively out on the world, Whitney Bourne visions new fields of conquest. When New York society life palled on her, she turned to the stage. A success on Broadway, she attracted Hollywood's attention. She went on to new success in the cinema realm and now has been booked for the lead role in a Russian film.

Cleopatra at the Saenger 3 Days

Claudette Colbert and Warren Williams in the Featured Rolls

What is probably Cecil B. DeMille's greatest spectacle, in a long line of motion picture productions, "Cleopatra," the noted director's latest Paramount production, was presented at the Saenger a week ago this last Friday night at a preview. It comes for three days starting Sunday.

All the glory that was Egypt, all the grandeur that was Rome is shown here in a screen masterpiece, bringing to the motion picture once again all the talent of the master of spectacle.

War chariots thunder across the sands, spears glisten in the thrill of battles, dancing girls swing and swirl through grand marble halls and back of it all, in clear tones, rings the world's greatest love story that has lived throughout the ages.

With Claudette Colbert, Warren Williams and Henry Wilcoxon in the principal roles, the film boasts of a grand array of star talent, a veritable army of extras (more than 5,000 men, women and children took part) and a supporting cast that includes Ian Keith, Joseph Schildkraut, C. Aubrey Smith, Gertrude Michael, Irving Pichel, William Farnum, Robert Warwick, Jack Mulhall, Edwin Maxwell and Harry Berford.

The film story starts with the ambitious ruler of Egypt, using her mighty Caesar as a foil against her bitter enemy, Cleopatra. From Caesar, after he has been killed, Cleopatra drifts from lover to lover until Marc Antony, noble Roman soldier, falls in love with her.

And it is this love, which has echoed down through countless pages of history and fiction, that takes up the greater portion of the film. In fast-moving scenes of beauty, color and spectacle this deathless love story is brought to life.

The manner in which the two lovers finally defy the entire world, and perfect peace and happiness brings the film to a most sensational finale.

Cleopatra, the Siren of the Nile; Marc Antony, the idol of the Romans; Caesar, the martyred emperor; Calpurnia, his patient wife; pale Octavian; brooding, plotting Brutus—all are here in this amazing achievement.

Highest acting honors go to Claudette Colbert, with Henry Wilcoxon and Warren Williams running her a close second. Good portraits are created by Ian Keith, C. Aubrey Smith and Gertrude Michael.

It might be pointed out here that DeMille has completely modernized his and his people without losing any of the glamorous backgrounds.

BOY SLAIN

They were playing in the neighborhood of the old shack. John was the "cop" in their game and they all were "robbers." With little James were Andrew Orbin, six, and John Brush, six, both of Bayonne.

They finally took John captive and tied him securely with a piece of rope they found in the shack. It was great fun, they told Chief Casey, but the game eventually became boring and they decided to let him go.

When they cut the rope around John's legs and arms, and told John to "come on home" they received no answer. They were scared and their fright grew when John toppled over, falling into the open trunk. One of the boys closed down the lid and the other three went some, saying nothing about John.

John Feeney Sr., the boy's father, and others searched the dumps without success before he notified police.

Salaries Are Issue in Desha County

ARKANSAS CITY.—Another legal battle will be engaged in by sponsors of the proposed Desha county salary act and lawyers for the county officials here Monday when chancery court is convened. This will be the fourth legal tangle in which the bill has been involved since it was filed with the county clerk, Noel Newton, here September 1.

Chancellor E. G. Hammock will review the ruling of the county clerk who refused after several days of investigation of the proposed salary bill, to certify it as correct. The county clerk had not been signed by a sufficient number of qualified electors because of the 200 signatures which were on the bill, 106 had not signed their assessment blanks in person, 17 had not paid their poll tax, and five had been counted twice. He declined also to certify the bill on the ground that it attempted to abolish a constitutional office by transferring the collector's office from the sheriff to the treasurer. Sponsors of the bill filed an appeal to the chancery court for a review, which will be heard Monday.

Aluminum Firm Is a Real Monopoly

Government Accuses It of Over-Charge During World War

WASHINGTON.—(P)—The Justice Department unqualifiedly asserted Friday that the vast Aluminum Company of America is a monopoly.

The allegation was made in the government's amended counter-claim in a suit to collect more than $1,500,000 in alleged overcharges from the Aluminum Company, in which the family of Andrew W. Mellon, former secretary of the Treasury, has important interests.

The document, not formally admitted by the Court of Claims, asserted the Aluminum Company is the sole producer and only source of supply of virgin aluminum in the United States.

"Said company is a monopoly," the document continued, "and owns and controls numerous subsidiary companies, affiliated and associated by and through stock ownership, either in whole or in part, interlocking directorates, leases and other instrumentalities incident to trade and commerce."

The case grew out of the Aluminum Company's suit to collect about $600,000 from the government for aluminum furnished during and since the World war. Payment was held up by Comptroller-General V. R. Mead pending settlement of the government's counter-claim of overcharges.

Wanted!

ASH BOLTS and GUM BLOCKS
For Prices and Specifications Apply
HOPE HEADING COMPANY
Phone 245

Dress Sale

100 New Silk and Wool Dresses
$6.95

Ladies Specialty Shop

"Exclusive But Not Expensive"

DON'T SCRATCH

Use Prescription 200,000
Destroys all germs of scabies or parasitic ITCH.

JOHN S. GIBSON Drug Company

"The REXALL Store"
Hope, Ark. Established 1885

Nelson-Huckins

Pillows Properly Laundered and Sterilized—Each 25c
PHONE 8

12c Government Loans

Cotton and Options Bought
TOM KINSER

HEAR YE! HEAR YE!

The TOWN CRIER

All Hope LISTENS TO . . .

When your grandfather's grand-dad had a shipload of shawls to sell or rooms at his inn to let he told the town crier about it. The crier told the rest of the village and grand-dad paid him plenty to do it.

Hope Star Want Ads took over the town crier's job long ago. They don't have to depend on lung-power to get results . . . wise buyers check the Want Ads without being told. Hope Star Want Ads get those results at lowest cost, too—as you've found out if you have used them. And, best of all, they get them FAST.

Hope Star WANT ADS

U. S. Army Chief

HORIZONTAL

1. Who is the U. S. Army officer in the picture?

2. Since.

3. Feminine pronoun.

4. Tabular plant sheath.

5. List.

6. Stuffed.

7. To employ.

8. Boy.

9. Spreads as an arch.

10. Delivered.

11. Big noisy storm.

12. Cupola.

13. Being in the abstract sense.

14. Law.

15. South Carolina.

16. Paid publicity.

17. Bill of fare.

18. Ocean.

19. Stated wrongly.

20. Rudely conceals.

21. Frosty.

22. Stiff breeze.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

SHIRLEY TEMPLE

37. Folding bed.

38. Afternoon.

39. To drink jovially.

40. 2000 pounds.

41. To deposit.

42. Firearm.

43. Deret.

44. Taro paste.

45. He is chief of the U. S. army.

46. He has received many for bravery in action.

spikelets.

16. Essay.

17. To squander.

18. To rob.

19. Explanation of a problem.

20. Payment demands.

21. He is a graduate of U. S. Military.

22. To slumber.

23. To observe.

24. Mud.

25. Eye tumor.

26. Heat of burden.

27. To perform.

28. Box.

29. Partially landlocked sea.

30. Profound insensibility.

31. Ache.

32. Work of skill.

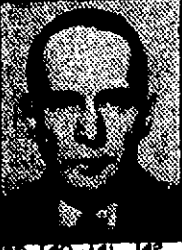

33. Inlet.

34. To make a lace.

35. Card game.

36. Musical note.

37. 3.1416.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

UM-M-JUST AS I THOUGHT—EITHER AN IMITATION DIAMOND, OR A RANK GRADE OF, AH—OH, SAY, ABOUT THE EIGHTH WATER—AS WE KIMBERLEY EXPERTS WOULD CLASSIFY IT! YAS—THE COMMERCIAL TYPE, USED FOR CUTTING OR DRILLING!—BUT CERTAINLY NOT WORTH $40!

JEWEL EXPERT!—WHY, YOU COULDN'T TELL A RUBY FROM A TAIL-LIGHT!—GIMME THAT DIAMOND BACK, BEFORE YOU CLASS IT AS A PIECE OF SALT SHAKER!

NOW THAT YOU'VE ASH-CANNED TH' FIVE AN' TEN DIAMOND, MAJOR, HOW ABOUT TH' GOLD RING? DOESN'T IT LOOK A BIT WATER TALKET BRASS TO YOU?

WHITTLING DOWN JAKE'S RING

By AHERN OUT OUR WAY

TH' BIG GUY GIT HURT?

NO-TH' LITTLE GUY GOT HURT, AN' TH' BIG GUY FAINTED, WHEN HE SAW IT.

GOOD NIGHT! WHY DON'T PEOPLE BE MORE CAREFUL ABOUT GETTIN' HURT?

THE INNOCENT BYSTANDER

Negro Missionary Conference Here

Home and Foreign Society Draws District Representatives

The Home and Foreign Missionary Society of the West Arkansas conference branch convened in Hope Thursday with many negro representatives here from all over the district.

The wife of C. V. Stinson of Malvern, conference president, presided over the meeting Thursday. A splendid session was held during the opening day.

Among those attending were The wife of M. Hearne, president of the Hot Springs district; the wife of A. Runyon, president of the Magnolia district; the wife of L. Clemons, acting president of the Texarkana district.

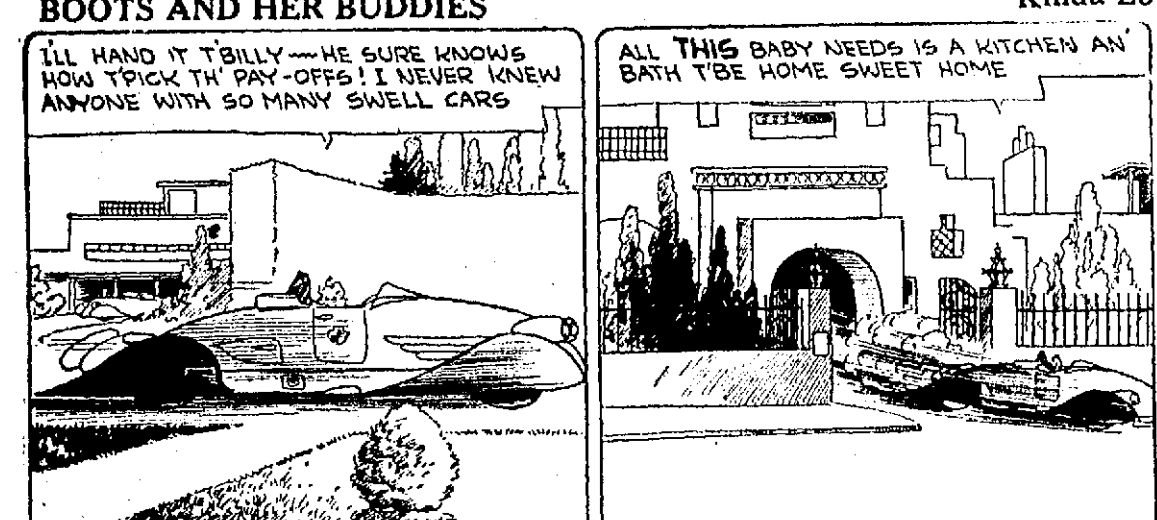

The wife of G. A. Smith, secretary, the wife of G. W. Blakely, organizer, the wife of S. P. Perry, the wife of L. D. Lee, of the conference branch.

Rev. J. W. Stinson, D. D., presiding elder of the Hot Springs district; Rev. J. M. Turner, D. D., presiding elder of the Magnolia district; Rev. S. P. Perry, pastor of Magnolia station.

Boots and Her Buddies

I'LL HAND IT T-BILLY—HE SURE KNOWS HOW T'ICK TH' PAY-OFFS! I NEVER KNEW ANYONE WITH SO MANY SWELL CARS

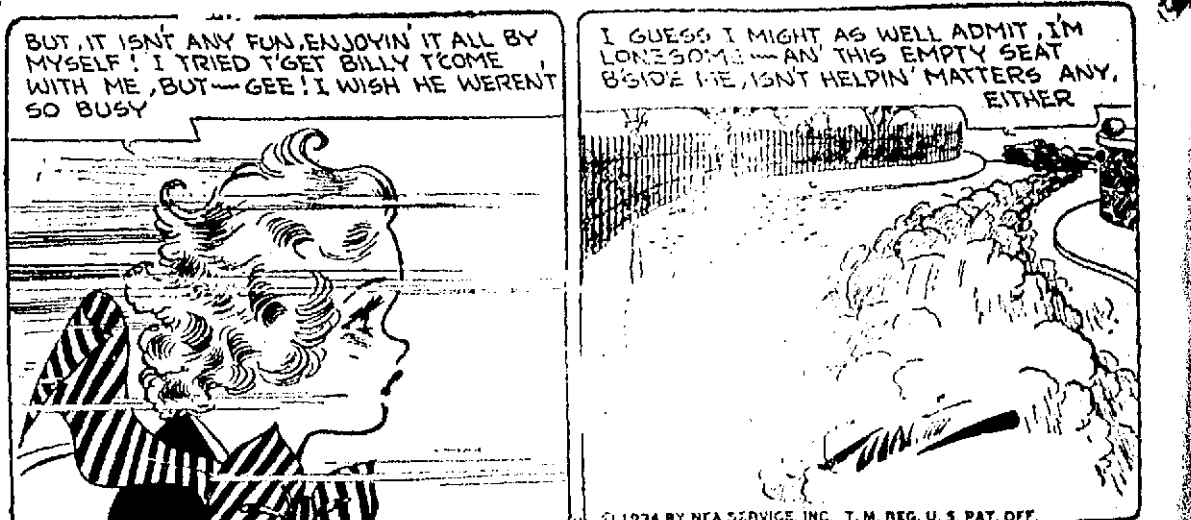

ALL THIS BABY NEEDS IS A KITCHEN AN' BATH T'BE HOME SWEET HOME

By MARTIN

BUT IT ISN'T ANY FUN, ENJOYIN' IT ALL BY MYSELF! I TRIED T'GET BILLY T'COME WITH ME, BUT—GEE! I WISH HE WEREN'T SO BUSY

I GUESS I MIGHT AS WELL ADMIT, I'M LONESOME—AN' THIS EMPT' SEAT BESIDE ME, ISN'T HELPIN' MATTERS ANY, EITHER

ALLEY OOP

THIS IS A FINE HOWDEEDO! HERE I'VE GOT EVERYTHING ALL FIXED FOR TH' WEDDING, AN' YOU GOTTA GO AN' GITCHER WEDDING DUOS ALL MESSED UP!

THEY DID GET KINDA TORE UP SOME—THASSA FACT!

I'LL SAY THEY GOT KINDA TORE UP, YOU IRRESPONSIBLE, BIG-MOUTHEED NITWIT! YOU CANT MARRY TH' PRINCESS WOOTIETOOT, LOOKING LIKE THAT!

YEAH—I KNOW IT! LES JES CALL IT ALL OFF, HUH?

By HAMLIN

I KNEW SUMPIN'D GO WRONG! OHHHH—THIS IS AWFUL!

HEY, UMPATEEDLE, MY PET! I THINK I GOTTA IDEA—

ALLEY CAN WEAR MY EXTRA SUIT!

WHY, THAS RIGHT, GUZZY! YOU'VE SAVED TH' DAY!

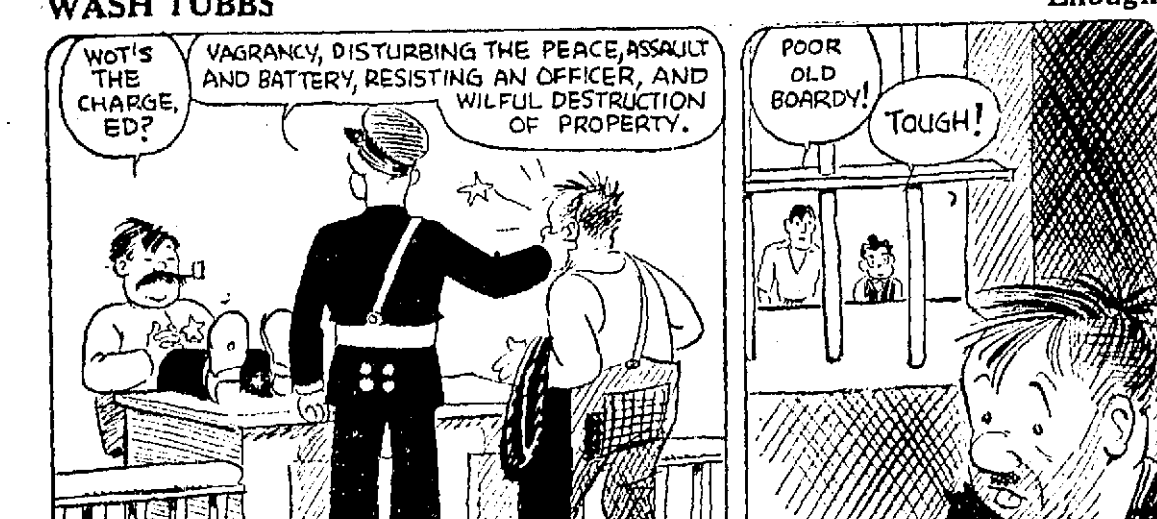

WASH TUBBS

WOT'S THE CHARGE, ED?

VAGRANCY, DISTURBING THE PEACE, ASSAULT AND BATTERY, RESISTING AN OFFICER, AND WILFUL DESTRUCTION OF PROPERTY.

POOR OLD BOARD! TOUGH!

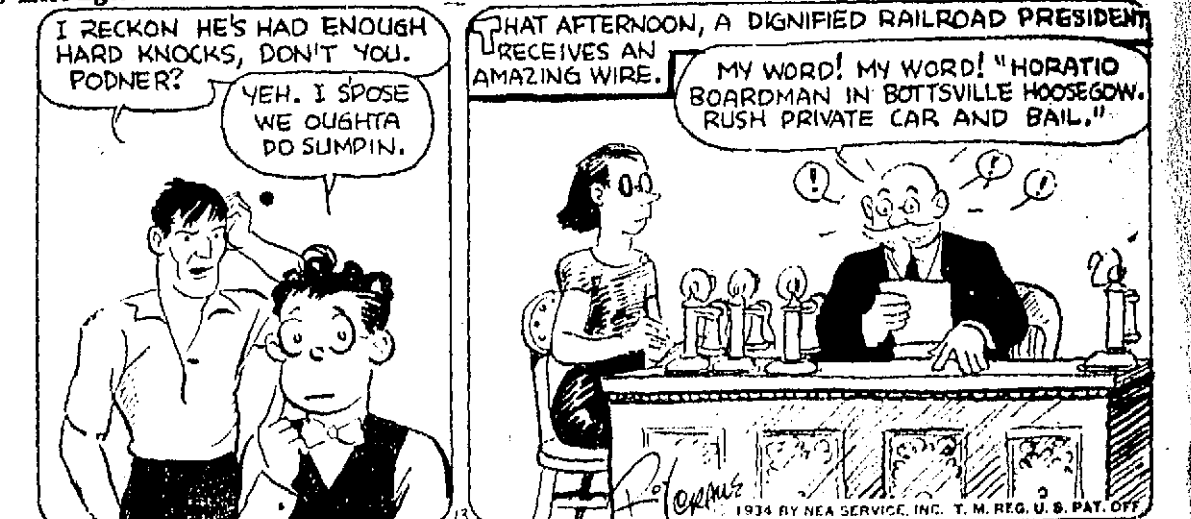

By CRANE

I RECKON HE'S HAD ENOUGH HARD KNOCKS, DON'T YOU.

YEH. I SPOSE WE OUGHTA DO SUMPIN'.

THAT AFTERNOON, A DIGNIFIED RAILROAD PRESIDENT RECEIVES AN AMAZING WIRE.

MY WORD! MY WORD! "HORATIO BOARDMAN IN BOTTSVILLE HOOGSOW. RUSH PRIVATE CAR AND BAIL."

Market Place

Remember, the more you tell, the quicker you sell.

1 time, 10c line, min. 30c

For consecutive insertions, minimum of 3 lines in one ad

3 times, 6c line, min. 50c

6 times, 5c line, min. 90c

25 times, 3 1/2c line, min. $2.75 (Average 5 1/2 words to the line)

NOTE—Want ads will be accepted with the understanding that the bill is payable on presentation of statement, before the first publication.

Phone 768

Screen doors—Hope Bldg. Mat. Co.

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

NICE GOING, FRECKLES!!

By COWAN

LOOK AT OUR BOY, MOTHER! THAT'S THE THIRD TOUCHDOWN HE'S MADE! HE'S A CHINCH FOR ALL-STATE HONORS THIS YEAR!

BUT I'M SO AFRAID HE'LL BE HURT!

NONSENSE! HE'S GOT TO LEARN TO TAKE BUMPS NOW! BESIDES, HE WANTS TO BE A FOOT-BALL COACH, WHEN HE GROWS UP!

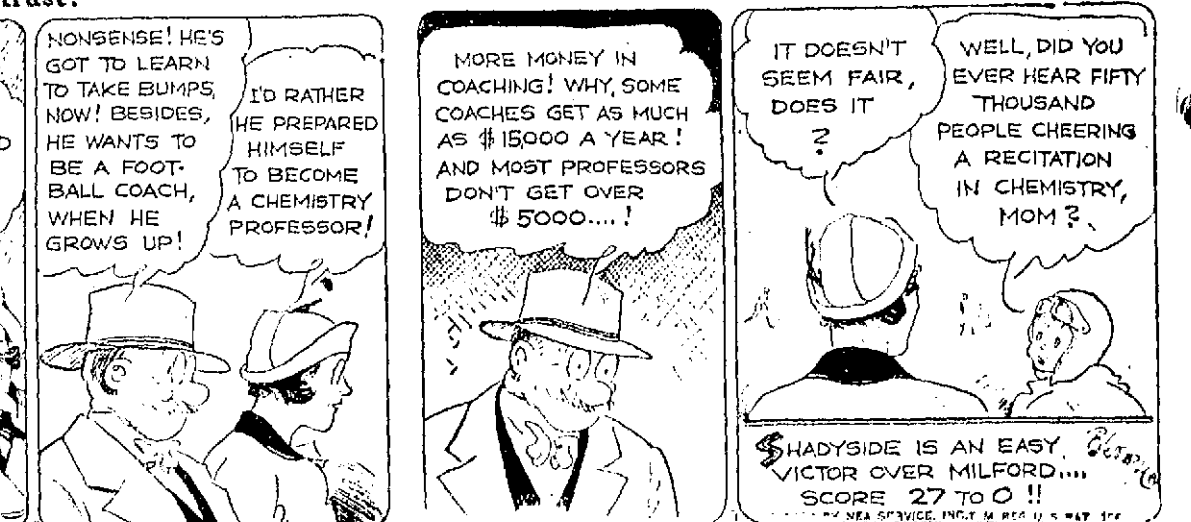

I'D RATHER HE PREPARED HIMSELF TO BECOME A CHEMISTRY PROFESSOR!

MORE MONEY IN COACHING! WHY, SOME COACHES GET AS MUCH AS $15000 A YEAR! AND MOST PROFESSORS DON'T GET OVER $5000....!

IT DOESN'T SEEM FAIR, DOES IT?

WELL, DID YOU EVER HEAR FIFTY THOUSAND PEOPLE CHEERING A RECITATION IN CHEMISTRY, MOM?

SHADYSIDE IS AN EASY VICTOR OVER MILFORD... SCORE 27 TO 0!!

FOR RENT

FOR RENT: South bed room, with or without bath, phone 321.

FOR RENT—Three-room nicely-furnished apartment, private bath, private entrance. Garage if desired. Phone 66 or 284. 11-31c

FOR SALE

Best Paint Sold—Hope Bldg. Mat. Co.

BARGAINS IN USED CARS.

P. A. Lewis Motor Co.

Wall Paper—Hope Bldg. Mat. Co.

USED PARTS FOR ALL CARS.

P. A. Lewis Motor Co.

FOR SALE: Nice home with $380.00 Home Owners Loan payable $3.41 per month. Equity $220.00 cash. See Floyd Porterfield. 9-61c

WANTED

WANTED TO RENT—From one to five years. Six room house with bath, garage, and place for cow. Leon Bundy, Call 214-W. After 7 p. m. 12-31c

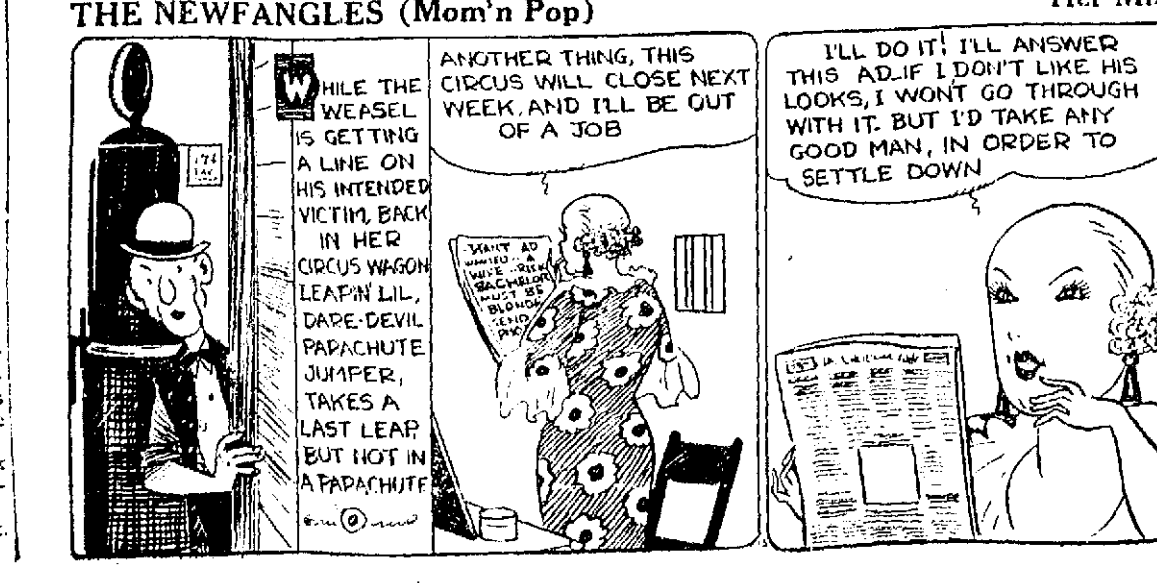

FOR TRADE—Good work horse for good cow or second hand car. L. J. Hubbard, Sprudell, Ark. 11-6-31p

THE NEWFANGLES (Mom'n Pop)

WHILE THE WEASEL IS GETTING A LINE ON HIS INTENDED VICTIM, BACK IN HER CIRCUS WAGON LEAPIN' LIL, DARE-DEVIL PAPACHUTE JUMPER, TAKES A LAST LEAP, BUT NOT IN A PAPACHUTE

ANOTHER THING, THIS CIRCUS WILL CLOSE NEXT WEEK, AND I'LL BE OUT OF A JOB

I'LL DO IT! I'LL ANSWER THIS AD. IF I DON'T LIKE HIS LOOKS, I'WONT GO THROUGH WITH IT. BUT I'D TAKE ANY GOOD MAN, IN ORDER TO SETTLE DOWN

By BLOSSER

—AND I AM SURE I WILL MAKE YOU A KIND AND LOVING WIFE... THERE! THAT OUGHT T'DO THE TRICK

NOW T'ICK OUT A GOOD PICTURE OF MYSELF—LET'S

IT'S THE BEST LIKENESS I EVER HAD TAKEN—I'LL SEND THIS ONE

